

COPY FOR NEW SERIES ALVEY REELS

The first models of a new range of Alvey Reels are now available in your favourite tackle store.

650A5 and C5 models now have a lighter and stronger dark green spool. The 650A5 spool is 150 grams (5ozs) lighter than the current yellow spools and the 650C5 reel is 115 grams (4ozs) lighter. All other physical characteristics are the same, so you can purchase a new spool for your old reel and it will fit straight on.

A new concept is used in the design of the 60 series by having the backplate built inside the spool. This keeps the weight of the reel to a minimum and allows finger tip control of the back edge of the spool when controlling line release. This design also eliminates light lines from getting inside the backplate.

The 60 series have almost the same recovery rate as the 650 series but with a narrow spool - 40mm(1.5/8") and achieves a weight of approximately 150 grams (5ozs) less than the current 600 series. This reel will be a must for the angler using light gear for bream, trevally, whiting and still wanting a fast recovery rate and the reliability of the Alvey products.

These reels are only the start of a new range being developed in the Alvey factory for release in the next year or so. Keep an eye out for them.
